Where people meet art

The longest-running event of its kind, the Pilsen East Artists' Open House is an integral part of Chicago's cultural history. It was founded in 1970 by Mrs. Annelies Podmajersky, along with local artists, to help connect their art with the public.

Through three generations of philanthropy and development, the Podmajersky family has called Pilsen East home and continuously supported the annual event. With their ongoing commitment to the Chicago Arts District, 2nd Fridays, and the Pilsen East Artists' Open House, the neighborhood stands out as one of the city's most vibrant creative communities.

Creative entrepreneurs now occupy the century-old buildings along South Halsted—once home to immigrants who were the backbone of the Industrial Revolution. Today, a new breed of artisans occupy the galleries that act as more than just a showplace: it's home, studio, intimate meeting space, inspiration—all gathered in a concentrated environment—a mélange that is always fresh and dynamic.

The Pilsen East neighborhood has proven to be an incubator for creativity and artistic success, with hundreds of artists launching their careers here in the Chicago Arts District.

The Open House is a self-guided walking tour of the intimate world of the working artist. This neighborhood of creatives welcomes you to experience art at its source as artists open their spaces to discuss their work and share their creative process.
